

MULTI-ROLLING SUCCESS

Stratis Plastic Pallets is a brand of Snyder Industries, the world's largest moulder of its type. Philip Yorke talked to Jay Skinner, Product Marketing Manager for Stratis Domestic & International Sales, about its latest patent pending Multi-Roll Stacker™ Pallet product it is launching at ICE with ambitious plans for the future.

Stratis Pallets, a brand of Snyder Industries, began in Indiana, USA in 1993 and has grown to become the world's leading manufacturer of super heavy-duty one-piece moulded plastic pallets. For flexible packaging it makes specialised cradle style plastic pallets for roll/reel handling in-house and for closed loop shipping. In addition, the company makes customised pallet material handling solutions that also solve safety and hygiene related problems. These pallets are innovatively designed for maximum ergonomics and can include hidden, moulded-in internal steel reinforcement for edge rackability.

Stratis plastic pallets are designed for a broad range of industrial converting applications including flexible packaging, corrugating, folding carton production, printing and metal fabrication, as well as for the pharmaceutical and food processing markets. Today Stratis Pallets is a multi-million dollar international company with over 3000 customers located in over 60 countries.

Rolling technology forward

At the ICE Europe trade fair in Munich, Stratis will showcase its new unique patent pending Multi-Roll Stacker™ Pallets, which are designed to eliminate pallet racks for storing rolls and shipping more safely with Shift-Lok™. These rolls can be made of film, paper, label stock, foil, or indeed any product that's cylindrical in shape.

Stratis also has many sizes of single roll cradle style pallets for Work in Process from the extruder to storage and into converting. Stratis Roll Pallets can carry very heavy loads exceeding 4000kg and also offers hidden moulded-in steel reinforcement when needed.

Skinner said, "We are 180 degrees different from other plastic pallet companies. Our business in Europe is growing and we have ambitious plans for further expansion in this market. Axel Zaiser, owner of MSI GmbH, has been our independent European Sales Coordinator for over 20 years. During that time we have been dominant in providing highly specialised pallets for the sheetfed folding carton industry." □
